THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Army Blunder

A FEW days ago a bill passed the House which got very little attention but should have got a lot. For it involves an expenditure of from three and a half to eight and a half billions of dollars—in cash. And, if that isn't inflationary, it would be interesting to know what is.

THIS bill would distribute that money among as many of the past and present 15,000,000 enlisted men and women in the armed services who could qualify under its provisions. Not all of them could, but, certainly, the authorities say enough to make the cost approximately $6,000,000,000. It might go much higher. No one knows. The vote by which the bill passed was 279 to 0. Not a single speech was made against it. Only one member failed to vote for it—Representative James W. Wadsworth, of New York—who, with characteristic courage, recorded himself as present but not voting. It was an astonishing performance and the story back of it is almost equally so.

IT hinges around an extraordinary Army blunder which put the House Military Affairs Committee in a position where it felt it had to report and support this bill and where a vote against it was difficult to defend. Invoking an old law enacted in 1864 and without informing the committee, the Army began giving to officers furlough pay which they had missed while in service—in addition to terminal leave pay. The Navy, naturally, followed suit. The cost ran into some millions but not into the billions.

HOWEVER, when the committee realized that this furlough pay for officers was already legalized, the point was made that it was manifestly unfair not to treat the enlisted men on the same basis—particularly as the enlisted men's discharge pay of $300 has been extended to officers up to the grade of captain. When these arguments were made the committee felt that regardless of cost, unless it made furlough pay cover the enlisted men its position would be untenable. There was no way to defend itself. Accordingly, the bill came out and went through a House in which every member is up for re-election in a few months without a dissenting vote and only one man refraining from voting.

MEMBERS of the House, of course, were aware of the gigantic sum involved but, in an election year, felt they were in no position to dwell on cost when weighed against injustice. Undoubtedly, there was the hope among many—as there always is when for political reasons the House acts unwisely—that the Senate will kill the proposal. And, it is to be hoped in this case the Senate will, though there is by no means the surety there should be.

FOR one third of the Senate is up for re-election, too, and among those who are not are an unusual number of left-wing demagogues who take their orders from the labor bosses, always united in favor of a spending proposition. Also, that argument that "you must be fair to the enlisted men" may be relatively as potent in the Senate as in the House. So, though the calamitous consequences of the bill are obvious, it is not surprising that it is being pushed through.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Russia presented her own plan for control of atomic energy yesterday but it differed from the American proposal in two important respects. Soviet Delegate Gromyko told the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission that the Security Council should retain full control of the subject with each of the Big Five retaining its veto power. He also proposed a control system that would remain subject to the veto.

Mr. Gromyko's detailed plan, which in some respects went beyond the American, called for outlawing atomic bombs by international agreement, subject to the Council's final control, and for each nation to prescribe "severe punishment" for violations of the convention. Earlier, Britain, China and several other nations had expressed support of the American proposal.

In Washington a House committee strengthened military participation in atomic energy control by permitting the Army conditional authority to manufacture bombs. Hope rose for the release of the British officers seized in Tel Aviv by Jewish extremists as high Jewish authorities urged that they be surrendered. ## DIRECT READER OF WATER METERS TO IMPROVE SERVICE

Doylestown Borough Em- ployee Instructed to Make at Least Two Calls

BILLS ARE OVERDUE

Discuss Improvement of Sewer System; and Coating of Streets

DOYLESTOWN, June 20—Doylestown borough councilmen, in session this week, took inventory of borough government operations. They scored the fact that the water meter reader usually rings but once at each house, with the result that some customers have not been billed in a long period of time.

Direction was made for the water-meter reader to make at least two calls before leaving a reminder-card that he cannot get in.

Council President George F. Smith welcomed the borough's new burgess, Captain George C. Butler, and extended the floor to Raymond Cox, spokesman for a group of property-owners from the "east end," asking for a report on the progress being made to give that section of town an improved sewer system. He was assured that the "east end" project will be one of the very first to get under way.

Councilman Chester Irwin, of the police committee, assured his associates that a new police car is badly needed; that the present car is "not safe to chase anyone." Order was placed for a new car.

Street Chairman Hayman announced that work will start next Monday on surface treatment on a

NEW YORK, June 20—(INS)—The "hollow shell" of Champion Joe Louis exploded in the Yankee Stadium before 45,266 quiet-as-prayer-meeting folks last night, and there was nothing inside except dynamite. The serene sphinx of fistie destruction didn't so much knock out Billy Conn with a right cross, right uppercut, and curtain-dropping left hook to the jaw, although he did do that, as expose Billy the Kid as a nice young man who dreamed too big.

Conn just didn't belong in there with the all-time atom bomb dropper of the fistie trade, and he acted throughout the almost eight rounds

Don't Mind Them, Horace!

(By "The Stroller")

Now everyone knows that Justice of Peace Horace Cooper, Langhorne, is an experienced fisherman. It is the one pastime that he enjoys and loves to talk about. He has the latest equipment and has pictures to prove his catches of marlin and "strollers."

It is easy to imagine how insulted he was the other day when in Bucks County District Attorney Edward Biester walks into Cooper's office and seeing a new land-ling net lying on a shelf remarked, "Oh! Playing lacrosse, Horace?"

Then to top that one off in walks Assistant District Attorney Willard Curtin who said, "Got a new lacrosse net, Horace?"

Cooper would have liked right then to have sentenced both Biester and Curtin to 30 days each.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . .

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

OPA has jumped the ceiling price of frozen sheep glands. . . . Nothing ahead for us now but pure panic.

Now we are promised 94 cent butter . . . and it had better be 10 per cent down, balance in easy payments.

Values are changing so fast that my grocery has added a codicil to his will naming his wife as administrator of three tubs of butter.

If she goes first she gets a consolation prize of a dozen soda biscuits.

The bread situation is getting no better . . . three hamburger houses have given up trying to serve broiled beef on chocolate cake.

The note in the church bulletin this week reads "Next Sunday . . . cast thy bread on the waters . . . and kindly notify parson, thine and place of casting."

Secretary Anderson says we will have less meat, poultry, eggs, wheat, dried fruits and peas but it will not affect our diet to any great extent. There will always be trips . . . like that.

Take my place in the bread line and I'll watch things for you.

MIKHAILOVITCH

Gen. Draja Mikhailovitch, who is on trial as a traitor in Belgrade
under a charge of killing off Communist forces in his own country,
could probably write a detailed,
and true, book on the ephemeral
character of world statesmen's commitments.

A few years ago this man was hailed in the press of the United States and England as the prize patriot of Yugoslavia. Feature articles were written about his fearless exploits, about the quality of his patriotism. The Yugoslavian government, exiled in London, gave him all the support possible. For many months he was the medium through which Allied support for the war on the Nazis in that area passed.

But at the same time he was fighting Nazis, Moscow was supporting a Communist named Broz, who changed his name to Tito, in a war on Mikhailovitch.
As Russia assumed an increasingly powerful voice in Allied councils, it came about that Tito was recognized and the real Yugoslav government in London was dropped at the behest of Moscow.

Support of Mikhailovitch by London and Washington fell off to nothing, until at last he was forced to take refuge in the mountains and subsist on snails. But the Reds got him.

The sympathies of Americans are with the man on trial, even though it is "proved" in a Communist court that he is guilty as charged. The Red tyranny which today holds Yugoslavia completely enslaved is a puppet government backed by Moscow. If the truth could be told, there would be no doubt that such acts of "treason" as Mikhailovitch is accused of were committed with the encouragement of Allied representatives, as he claims.

JOIT FOR "LIBERALS"

Because the United States has not been getting along too well with either nation, the announcement from Buenos Aires that diplomatic relations have been resumed between Argentina and Russia naturally has been publicly unnoticed by Washington.

Politically and economically as well this development seems certain to increase this nation's difficulties. President Peron undoubtedly expects to use it as a lever to change this country's attitude toward his regime. The Russian purpose is to establish another foothold in South America—and it will not be employed to help
the United States in achieving hemispheric solidarity.

Hard facts have already altered
the American attitude toward Peron. Washington's efforts to influence the people of Argentina
against him failed, and the State Department has been compelled to acknowledge that its attempt to save Argentina from a Fascist regime proved worse than effective.
Nevertheless, it is still Washington's policy to insist that Argentina keep her foreign commitments.

Peron may try to exploit his new relationship with Russia by wriggling out of his promises. If so, Washington's headaches will become still more acute.

treatment will take approximately 16,000 gallons of oil.
Councilman Irwin read the monthly report of Chief of Police Felix R. Gowan, which showed 14 arrests and 94 complaints investigated. Twenty-two warnings were issued and eight accidents investigated. Fines collected for the com-state, $10. The police car was driv-

Arrests were as follows: Drunk and disorderly, 4; vagrancy, 3; disorderly conduct, 2; forgery, 2;
drunken driving, 1; reckless driv-

Operation of the sewer plant was discussed at considerable length by council members and Superintendent of Public Works Winfield O.
Weisel, who assured members that in spite of some temporary shortage of help at the plant, due to illness, that the plant is being operated in an efficient manner.

Council President Smith called attention to Superintendent Weisel that "as a matter of convenience to the public at large," it would be well to have a previous suggestion carried out—to be available by telephone at the borough office for a certain period every week day.

The alleged smoke nuisance
caused by a local rubber plant
came up for some more discussion.
Council members were informed that due to a boiler breakdown at the plant on Memorial Day this year that it "virtually rained black snow" on the tops of nearby houses and automobiles. The soot was swept up in buckets at some places,
one councilman reported.

The result of the discussion was that the company is trying to remedy the nuisance. Council was also informed that the matter will be taken up by the board of health for additional investigation.

No action was taken on the suggestion that parking meters be purchased for Doylestown's main streets. Most of the members were of the opinion that Doylestown's main streets are not adaptable to parking meters.

No action was taken on the Main street widening project, other than the request made by Street Committee Chairman Hayman for Superintendent of Streets Weisel to furnish him with the necessary grades.

Councilman Irwin suggested that council forget about the Main street widening project and devote its entire efforts to have the sewer project in the "east end" completed.

"The sewer project has nothing to do with the Main street widening project," Irwin was informed. Both are slated on the "jobs to be done."

are clear, there is no certainty that it will not go through.

YET, its enactment would knock the Federal budget stiffly. It would precipitately increase the national debt at a time when it seemed possible to decrease it. It definitely would put the Federal finances out of control and make the runaway inflation so often warned against inevitable. Mr. Chester Bowles, economic stabilizer, and extremely articulate anti-inflation champion, should take a look at this one—
and have something to say. Mr.
John Snyder, the new Secretary of the Treasury, whose duty it is to keep our fiscal affairs healthy and sound, should take cognizance of it.

AND, President Truman, upon whom the largest responsibility rests, ought to move to avert this threat to the national economy
before it goes too far. Some way certainly can be found to avoid injustice to the enlisted man without wrecking the country. With all the other untoward things which rack us at home. If this is added,

the wreck could hardly be avoided.
Certainly, it is a proposal that will command the enthusiastic support of the Communists of the country because it rushes us straight toward their goal of economic chaos.
It will take courage in high places
to stand up against this measure
instead of finding excuses for it.
But somebody, somewhere in the administrative setup ought to display it now and not wait until it is too late.

First-Place Winners At Flower Show Announced

TREVOSE, June 20—A small flower show which featured the meeting of Trevese Horticultural Society on Tuesday evening was enjoyed by 400 attending.

First place winners were announced as follows: Cluster of Polyantha roses, Mrs. Demming; rambler roses, Mrs. Price; arrangement of roses for dining room table,
Mrs. Baker; vase of seven blooms,

Miss A. E. Paxson.

During business, which was in charge of the president, Harold West, of Trenton, N. J., plans were made to sponsor a flower show in the fall. Suggestion was made that the society hold a picnic in August.

Mrs. Earl Allabach, chairman of the membership committee, presented the names of 34 new members, and explained details for a membership contest. An attractive prize, it was announced, will be awarded the member of the society who is responsible for the most new members by October 10.

Isaac J. Vanartsdalen, Doylestown, who returned recently from a tour of the Southwest, gave an interesting account of the trip. He spoke of the grandeur of the mountains in the southern part of Colorado, and of the many flowers and cacti seen in New Mexico and Texas.

The speaker of the evening was Rufus J. Foster, Trenton, a naturalist and a former president of the Trenton Camera Club, who gave an illustrated talk on wild flowers of Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Most of these pictures were taken in the Delaware Valley.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The Rev. Woodrow W. Kern
Pastor
Trevose Methodist Church

Make us sensitive, O God, to feel Thy nearness at all times and to recognize that Thou art always "closer to us than a brother." Remind us when we go astray from Thy fold. Lead us gently back into Thy presence. May we again hear and hearing may we understand the great Shepherd's Prayer:

"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures. He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul. He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His Name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me, Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. . . ."

But God, when we are safe in Thy fold, make us restless until other hungry, fearful, and lost sheep are a part of Thy fold. May we help the Good Shepherd seek until with Him we find. Amen.

'Hollow Shell' of Louis Explodes; Load of Dynamite

as if nobody knew that better than Conn. Which I am sure that in his heart he did. But dreams die hard and nobody can hate a fellow for dreaming.

I guess you could say that this one was no Conn-test. For this was a Louis who looked throughout every minute of a dull fight as if he could call his shot. And who, when he was ready, did. But he was in no hurry. After all, what was the rush?

Those who fight off Joe the second time always wish it was the first time, and the pleasant Conn was no exception to the rule. Billy was in the ring, but he was never in the hunt. As Joe had so simply and truly said of him, "he can run but he can't hide."

And when their quiet little game of peek-a-boo was over, it was one short, ripping right jab that turned it into a fight. With the dancing Pittsburgher tagged and "it."

Oh! Man Detroit River, he just keeps rolling along. He is all of a hoary 32. But it is doubtful if, all things to count, if he was ever better as a terrific, frictionless fighting machine and probable that if he had to, he could shuffle in ten years from now and stiffen the likes of the heavyweights that are around today.

This time, Conn didn't lose his temper. He just lost his head.

For seven rounds, Billy danced nimbly and warily around the brown and shuffling "May pole," who piled up easy points with a steady but not savage left jab. To change the metaphor, it was strictly a game of cat and mouse and the way things were going, the champion could have gone on to win a dull decision with his right hand in his pocket.

So, as you see, the two judges were in perfect accord and the referee only at minor variance with them. Also, that when such fighting as there was prior to the knockout started, which is to say in the last four rounds, the titleholder got all the votes on all three cards.

Yet, such is the reaction of fight fans to these things that if Louis had rushed in and made the eighth round the first, ending it all in less than three minutes, the crowd probably would have thought it had seen a great fight.

CHANGE SITE FOR GAME

It has been announced that the Bristol Suburban League game between the Hibernians and Fleetwings teams will be played on the Edgely diamond tomorrow evening. The game was originally listed to be played on the high school field but the managers consented to play at Edgely.

Fortune smiles on those who make a habit of reading The Courier Want Ads.

LINCK ON THE MOUND

Linck Struck Out Nine; McCahan Blanked Seven

EDGELY, June 20—Two runs in the eighth frame enabled the Edgely A. C. to break the winning streak of the Fleetwings team last evening in a Suburban League game as the Edgelyites tabbed a 5-3 victory. The loss dropped the "Wingers" into sixth place.

Ralph Linck hurled the Edgelyites to the triumph while the losing moundsman was "Pat" McCahan. Both pitchers allowed ten hits. Linck struck out nine while McCahan had seven whiffs.

The winning runs were made when Linck drew a pass, F. Purcell singled and "Eddie" Hunter followed with his second three-bagger of the tilt.

HIBERNIANS LOSE TO LEGION NINE

In a Bristol Suburban League game played on Leedom's field, the Langhorne Legion played errorless ball to beat the Hibernians, 5-3, despite the fact that it was outlit, 9-5.

Worthington walked and Rothenback had a sacrifice. In the meantime, Kryven and Breslin committed errors which permitted Keen and Worthington to cross.

PLAN A CIVIC ASS'N FOR HILLTOWN TWP.

To Be Concerned with School, Road Improvements; Zoning, etc.

OUTLINE THE BY-LAWS

HILLTOWN, June 20 — Action is being taken toward establishment of a civic association locally which will be non-political. Residents of Hilltown Township are participating in the formation of the new organization.

The association will be concerned with improvement of schools and roads, organized children's activities and with possible zoning for the protection of real estate values.

A committee meeting of the association was held at the home of Herman Lingenbrink, to discuss the selection of a constitution and by-laws.

Outlines of by-laws similar to successful organizations were briefly reviewed. A committee was instructed to investigate and to draw up a constitution to be presented at a township-wide meeting in the near future.

Those serving on the constitution committee will be: E. H. Skirving, chairman; Alexander C. Wall, Mrs. Ira M. Shaffer, Mrs. Earle Woodneffe, Mrs. Margaret Leach, Edward R. Glenn, John M. Grasse, Mr. Leatherman, Herman Lingenbrink and Dr. N. A. Michels.

In order that each resident and property owner in the township may know and understand the intentions of the association, there will be a meeting for the presentation of the constitution and by-laws. A publicity committee composed of Mrs. Alexander C. Wall, Adam Lendel and Julius Hayden, was appointed at the meeting.

Dishes With The Fine Flavor of The Southland

Southern cooking covers a wide variety of dishes which are equally famous. Each particular area of the South has its cherished traditional recipes and ways of preparing its favorite foods, although they may differ only slightly from those of another area, says Jessie Alice Cline, home economist.

The South is rich in natural food resources, including all kinds of sea foods, poultry and wild game, and a wide variety of fruits. The principal meat produced and the favorite in use is pork in all its forms. Vegetables are much more varied today than they were formerly, but sweet potatoes or yams, beans and corn are still among the most popular.

Also important among the culinary specialties of the South are the delicious hot breads, pies and cakes invented and produced by the skill of old-time Southern cooks. These include corn pone, spoon bread, beaten biscuits, short'nin' bread, Lady Baltimore cake and sweet potato pie.

PENNSYLVANIA FARM ROUNDUP

By Suzanne Flick

L. N. S. Penna, Farm Editor
HARRISBURG, June 20—The State Agriculture Department predicted today that little new machinery would be made available for Pennsylvania farmers for the 1946 harvest.

The situation may force dealers to borrow newly-sold machines from farmers for displays at the State's 90 county and community fairs, according to Secretary Miles Horst. Dealers reported new farming equipment was snapped up by farmers as soon as it arrived from factories, Horst explained.

Tractors and automatic pickup balers, the scarcest items, were most in demand, Horst said. The movement of machinery from factories to showrooms was expected to increase unless further strikes develop, he added.

Much pre-war machinery would be useless this summer unless the output of replacement parts increased, Horst emphasized. Delivery of some new machinery was delayed due to lack of certain parts, he added.

A two-day dairy course was scheduled to be held at Pennsylvania State College beginning June 16 under the sponsorship of the Pennsylvania Milk Dealers Association.

College agriculture instructors were slated to demonstrate latest labor savings devices and discuss disease controls, dairy sanitation and improved feeding.

The State Agriculture Department has upped winter wheat crop estimates by 578,000 bushels on the basis of surveys which indicated grain improvements following May rains.

A total yield of 18,438,000 bushels was anticipated for the state, the department stated.

Farmers will glean one bushel more per acre of wheat and rye this year than during 1945, it was forecast.

The total wheat crop will be 1,600,000 bushels under the 1945 yield while the rye output will fall 263,000 bushels short of last year's figure, it was predicted. The blame was placed on reduced acreages and unfavorable planting weather last fall.

Spring wheat, always a small crop, will amount to 240,000 bushels, crop reporters said.

The largest oats yield in five years will be harvested this summer, they predicted. Preliminary estimates pegged the output at 29,716,000 bushels, more than five million bushels above the 1945 crop.

Large peach and pear crops were expected to be gathered this year, according to fruit growers, but some loss was anticipated in cherry and apple yields.

Approximately 1,386,000 bushels of peaches will be picked in late summer while pear orchards will produce 210,000 bushels of fruit, they predicted. Cherries, nipped by early frosts, will total only 3500 tons, it was estimated.

The quality of apples was reported only fair. A large drop of pears and cherries was anticipated due to heavy rains.

PRESERVE FOODS
ACCORDING TO THE
NEEDS OF FAMILY

By Edith M. Hopkins

(Home Economics Representative)
A fruit and vegetable preservation budget suited to the needs and good habits of the family will be of great help to the homemaker in planning for adequate winter meals. During the summer months these items usually can be provided readily in the right amounts.

To avoid monotony, use a variety of foods, and rather than stock up completely with early fruits and vegetables use some of the canning jars and freezer locker space for later well-liked foods, such as corn and peaches.

Fruits and vegetables help build good health, and five or more servings of these items daily should be planned throughout the year.

Thirty quarts of fruit canned or frozen for each member of the family will provide one serving per person daily for 7 months. For a family of four, 120 quarts would be needed. The fruit can be served as sauce, in pies, in puddings, or as salads. Most families will want both to freeze and to can such fruits as raspberries and peaches. Strawberries are better frozen than canned. Tomatoes, oranges, or grapefruit should be served every day because of their vitamin C content, and unless citrus fruits are purchased frequently tomato juice should be canned at the rate of 25 quarts for each member of the family. This amount can be cut in half if citrus fruits are served at least three times a week.

Many homemakers prefer to freeze leafy greens or buy them fresh rather than can them. Ten quart jars or packages frozen will provide two servings a week per person during the winter months—40 quarts for a family of four.

To provide another vegetable for at least five times a week, 25 quart jars should be canned, or as many packages frozen, for each member of the family. A large proportion of these vegetables should be green or yellow, such as peas, green snap beans, broccoli, asparagus, yellow corn, and winter squash. Carrots, celery, and cabbage may be stored for eating fresh, if suitable storage space is available.

SHOPPING TIPS FOR BUDGETEERS

SEERSUCKER sun-suits for the small fry are at last obtainable. How cool seersucker sun-suits are! And, you busy mothers, they need no ironing! The Wear Dept. has some one-piece "bib" suspender types, in sizes 3 to 6, at only $1.25 each. A choice of blue-and-white or red-and-white candy stripes. Are they sweet! Suitable for either boys or girls. (2nd floor.)

HERE THEY ARE—closely tufted chenille bedspreads in handsome, rich colors, such as rose, blue, green, peach, white, with clever designs in self-color. These are full bed size, and the kind meant for long, durable service. $11.95. While in the Bed Covering Dept., where they are to be had in the Snellenburg Store, snoop about for other interesting items. (2nd fl.)

GOLFERS' BIRTH-DAYS will be "green" heavens if you present them with "Golf Carts" for them to proudly wheel about their clubs. No need for caddies for the player who's a member of these handsome affairs! The "cart" is made of finest duraluminum, a light weight material used in the costliest aircraft. Weighs but 9 lbs. and rolls with a finger touch, on fat little balloon tires. $24.95. See the beautiful things in the Snellenburg Sporting Goods Dept. (3rd fl.)

LIFE'S ROAD will be an easier one if little folks start traveling it in the right shoes. The Snellenburg Shoe Dept. is famous for the correct fitting of babies' first walking shoes. Now the careful "buyer" for this Snellenburg department announces proudly that he again has the wonderful little "Scottie Juniors" for children 8 months to 3 years! These laced, high-topped white, elk-finished, soft cowhide (firm soled) shoes for little will delight you. Note the scientifically designed last, the generous toe room. Sizes 3 to 6, $2.84; 6 1/2 to 8, $2.95. I'm glad to tell you about these. (1st fl.)

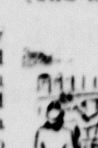

PEELED CEDAR blends beautifully with a garden and takes on a natural patina. It makes excellent decorative fences and romantic arbors, and you can buy this sturdy, peeled cedar made up in these articles. Just his yourself to the Summer Shop of the Snellenburg Store. Prices are most reasonable—7 ft. of the quaint garden fencing, $4.95; 7 ft. high, 4 ft. wide arbor, $11.95; a 44 in. high, 49 in. wide gate with latch, $7.95. Imagine a whole garden, or even a section of a garden, so enclosed—lovely! And no painting needed! (4th fl.)

SOOTHING WORK for summer sitting times is now available in the Snellenburg Art Needlework Dept. Imagine being able to lay stamped linen bridge sets! That is good news, indeed. Several designs, stamped for cross-stitch, cut work, lazy daisy stitch. This is easy work, but if you wish a little coaching, see the needlework books in the department. The sets consist of one 35 in. square and four napkins, $3.50 a set. Not since before the war has an art needlework department been so crowded with things for which devotees of such stitchery have been longing. (2nd fl.)

A HONEY—the new electric hot-or-cold "Comfortair". A turn of the switch and "Comfortair" cools a room, another little flip and "Comfortair" warms a room on any chilly day. Moreover, this cooler-heater adds beauty to a room. The handsome case of metal is finished in ivory and gold, and is designed to look like a medium size, portable radio, handle and all. It is light enough to be carried from room to room, yet heavy enough not to be easily knocked over. A find at $24.15, tax included. Snellenburg Housefurnishings Dept. (3rd fl.)

LUSCIOUS, QUICK—canned roast turkey, $3.19 for a container holding two grand pounds. Serve it cold or add a bit of water for heating it in the accompanying gravy. Just the thing for the company emergency shelf. If you prefer roast chicken, the two pounds are priced at $2.19. These are two of the most popular items in the good Chestnut St. Food Shop of the Snellenburg Store. Snoop about and you'll find many other unusual or hard-to-find foods. (1st floor.)

P.S. Do send clippings with mail orders when you can! Phone free (5c, 10c, and 15c out-of-town calls only). Penna.—ENT, 10160; Jersey—WX-1150. Shop located Market, 11th to 12th Sts., Phila.—through to 1125-29 Chestnut St. Be hearin' from you! Faithfully, FAITH.

HONORS ACCORDED TO ARTIST IN HOLICONG

Clarence H. Carter Chosen To Represent U. S. At Show in London

CANVASS IS LOANED

HOLICONG, June 20 — Clarence H. Carter, a nationally-known artist now living here, has recently received an outstanding honor in the world of art. He has been one of the artists chosen to represent the United States in an exhibition of two hundred years of American painting soon to open in London. His canvas, "Jane Reed and Dora Hunt," which is being loaned by the Museum of Modern Art in New York, was reproduced in the New York Times Sunday.

Mr. Carter is the only contemporary artist whose work was reproduced. The other paintings are "Mrs. Richard Yates" by Gilbert Stuart, loaned by the National Gallery of Art, Washington, and "Between Rounds" by Thomas Eakins, loaned by the Philadelphia Museum for this important exhibition.

According to the New York Times the exhibition was unloaded at Southampton, England, last Monday, and will open at the Tate Gallery in London June 14. Invited by the trustees of the Tate Museum more than a year ago, the exhibition was organized by the National Gallery in Washington at the request of the State Department.

The canvas by Mr. Carter, which was sent to the Tate Gallery is 36x45 inches, and shows two sunbonneted women walking down the railroad tracks in the evening picking up coal. A new moon is low over the Kentucky hills, and the figures are ghost-like in the pale light of dusk. The painting was reproduced in the New York Herald-Tribune previously when it was included in an exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art, entitled "Realism and Magic Realism."

Mr. Carter moved to Bucks county two years ago after resigning his professorship at Carnegie Institute of Technology in order to devote all of his time to painting. After moving here his first Summer was spent in the Caribbean Islands and South America getting material for paintings used as advertising in national magazines for the Alcoa Steamship Company.

He has 21 paintings in the collections of thirteen leading museums in the United States. All of the major art museums in the New York area own his paintings. The Metropolitan Museum of Art owns an oil painting and water color by Mr. Carter.

TRADITION TAKES BEATING

HAMILTON, N. Y. (INS) — Colgate University's masculine tradition was broken further when five women were elected to honorary membership in Masque and Triangle, the dramatics club. The five, honored in recognition of the part they played in producing "Boy Meets Girl" recently, are Frances Betts, Florence Hampton, Mrs. Rosemary Greene, Ethel Stark, and Mrs. Joan Boyce, wife of a Colgate staff member.
